WHY THE CANE?–That was the question asked by several persons this past week with respect to the picture of Police Chief John Morgan that appeared in last week's issue.

You may recall that John was pictured on the bank of Los Gatos Creek pointing to the apparently wild marijuana patch that was discovered in the marshy area.

Subsequently 10 young persons were arrested by Campbell police at the scene in the act of "harvesting" this bonanza crop.

But to get back to the cane.

If you had looked closely, you would have also observed that John's foot appeared to be in a cast.

John has been forced to hobble around because an old injury acted up recently when extra pressure was applied.

The case of the wild marijuana had nothing to do with John's ailment, although it did limit his mobility to a degree.

For example, while we were observing the marijuana patch from the bank with the chief, both of us noted that "harvesting" was going on by some parties in the area below us.

John's bad foot made it virtually impossible for him to climb down the bank and as we were not much help in that department, he called in to headquarters.

Three arrests were made a short time later, one was an 18-year old girl who was nabbed just as she climbed the bank with her bag of freshly harvested marijuana plants.

The area has been sprayed with a toxic substance. But that apparently hasn't completely stopped the harvesting crew and the section is still under surveillance by the police.

Oh, John's foot.

He thinks he came down too hard on the steps at his office.

THERE WAS SOME stumbling around at the first meeting of the City of Campbell Redevelopment Agency last week.

The four councilmen present, Homer Hyde, Ralph Doetsch, Bill Smeed and Dean Chamberlin, adjourned as a City Council at 9 p.m. and then reconvened as the City of Campbell Redevelopment Agency immediately.

This agency, along with the 15-member citizens advisory group that will be appointed, could have a far-reaching effect on the entire downtown area (from Winchester east) and the notorious Gilman-Dillon-Railway sector.

The formation of the agency is the first step in the implementing of the Neighborhood Development Program under federal aid of the Department of Housing and Urban Affairs (HUD).

Under city ordinance, the five councilmen form the governing body of the agency.

But they wear different hats.

And that made it a trifle awkward during the organizational meeting.

They were not acting as councilmen.

So, just what do you call 'em?

DURING THE ROLL calls of the new agency by City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan it became increasingly obvious that something needed to be done to smooth things out a wee bit.

In the case of Hyde and Chamberlin, who were named chairman and vice-chairman, their positions as mayor and vice-mayor on the council. Dorothy had no problem, it was chairman and vice-chairman.

But in the case of the others, she bogged down, especially after it was pointed out that it wasn't proper to use "councilman" as their title.

Nobody was much help.

Council pushes ahead with civic center plans

Where the various city departments are to be located in the new city hall and the amount of floor space required were pretty well defined at the study session last Wednesday between the City Council and Bill Hedley, architect for the project. Another study session is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 18.

The new city hall will be located on a 2½-acre site just north and east of the present city hall. It will be bounded by First, Grant, Central and the proposed north loop street between Central and First.

The library building will be located on a 1½ acre site between Central and Harrison.

All the necessary land for the city hall has been acquired and cleared. But the city is still negotiating for the property needed for the library.

The study session last week was limited to the city hall floor plan and the financial problems that have developed because of rising construction costs and land acquisition.

Originally the library was planned as an integral part of the city hall. However. federal aid commitments has allowed for the expansion of facilities. Thus more land was needed.

No proposed drawings of elevations or styling were submitted at last Wednesday's study session. However, on Aug. 18, Hedley indicated he would have present some suggestions as to architecural design.

Hedley cautioned the City Council, however, the estimated $28 per square foot estimate would limit the type of design that would be submitted.

What concerns the city administration is that rough estimates at the present time indicate that the city will be short about $150,000, if the present plans are carried out.

But the councilmen felt that it would be impractical at this time to attempt to reduce the floor space that had been recommended by a comprehensive study of all departments.

Approximately 3,000 square feet would have to be eliminated in order to reduce costs by $80,000, which is the present estimated deficit without a $70,000 contingency reserve, rated as the minimum needed.

Although concerned over the problem, the councilmen agreed that Hedley should continue with the present layout and use the $28 per squarefoot cost in his proposed design.

In the meantime, City Manager Bob Stephens is to explore other possible revenue sources and suggest other means of reducing costs, for example in furnishings.

Stephens explained that the $90,000 estimate for furnishings for the new city hall should be re-examined to determine how much of the present city hall furnishings could be used on a temporary basis in the new hall.

On the whole, the councilmen indicated that they were satisfied with the overall preliminary floor plans for both the city administration area and the police department, although a minor number of modificiations were suggested.

The basic plans put the police department on the lower floor with the other departments on the ground floor. Entry to the city hall would be by two ramps from either Central or First. The down ramp would lead to the police department and the up ramp to the other departments.

The engineering, public works, planning and building departments would be in the north wing with the remainder of the city administration staff and the council chambers located in the south wing.

According to the time table that was suggested by Hedley, it will be possible to

City to buy pumper

Campbell's City Council next Monday, August 11, is scheduled to award the contract for the new pumper for the Fire Department. But the city does not expect to receive the fire equipment for at least 12 months.

Three bids, ranging from $49,856.85 to a high of $55,581, have been received The pumper will be paid for over a five-year period.

On the agenda also will be a report from Art Kee, planning director, which specifies that the County Health Department has found that the five horses that are kept on the property of Mrs. Adelaide Roberts, 1198 Steinway, do not constitute a health hazard.

Residents in the area have objected to the horses being kept on the property, but there is no city ordinance prohibiting horses within the city limits provided no nuisance is created and they are far enough away from the residences.

The City Council is also scheduled to approve the routine resolution for per-

Businessman in town can also be a clown

WOULD YOU BELIEVE--that this is John Dixon?

It could almost be called from "rags to riches". Or riches to rags.

About eight times a year a husky, serious-appearing prominent businessman and former school board member does a complete about-face and becomes a hobo clown.

For more than an hour each time he and other temporary clowns entertain the crippled children in the Shriners Hospital in San Francisco.

John Dixon, long-time insurance man in this area and who has been associated with the Guy Farley agency in town since 1962, has been a member of the "Peninsula Shrine Club Clowns" of the Islam Temple of San Francisco since 1967.

The club is composed of about 45 members, all business and professional men, who take time out from their busy schedules to don their clown costumes for the entertainment of the crippled kids in the Shriners hospital. Dixon has been a member of the Islam Temple since 1961.

According to Dixon, the Shriner-clowns thoroughly enjoy themselves but take their clown-roles seriously. They feel they are doing something worthwhile for the youngsters, many of whom cannot leave their beds.

The club also greet the children at the Shrine Circus in San Francisco in addition to their hospital visits. They also appear at the Christmas party in Los Gatos, which is sponsored by the Los Gatos Camel Herders.

Dixon, who was a member of the Campbell Union (elementary) School Board for six years, now resides in Capitola and commutes to his office in Campbell.

Club members furnish their own costumes and pay all their own expenses. They receive no subsidy from the Shriners and must raise their own funds for any special undertaking connected with their activities.

Dixon, who also performs a few magic tricks as part of his act, has always appeared as a hobo or tramp clown. He estimates that it takes at least one hour for him to "make-up" and that in most cases they "clown" for an hour at a time.

Dixon added that the Shriners are continuously on the lookout for crippled children who need the services offered by the hospital.

The Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in San Francisco has been in existence for 47 years and is completely financed by the Shriners.

The hospital is financed to a large extent from proceeds from the famous East-West football classic each year.

A CLOWN AT WORK--John Dixon, local businessman, takes time out periodically to bring pleasure to youngsters in hospitals.

Proposed third screen for drive-in draws fire

Although a comprehensive traffic study prepared by a traffic engineer for the theater owners indicated that the traffic flow for a three-screen Winchester Drive-in Theater could be as efficiently handled as the present two-screen operation, Planning Commission members on Monday night indicated they were not yet convinced that was the case.

After more than three hours discussion on the controversial issue of the third screen, the Commission voted to defer action on the basic zoning question until Oct. 6 to allow the applicant to "prove" that the traffic flow recommendations were feasible.

Involved is a six-acre landlocked parcel, owned by the theater, and adjacent to the present two-screen movie operation. The theater people desire to install a third screen on the property but it is presently zoned R-3-S, a zone that does not allow such operations. Hence a zone-change is desired by the theater people.

Actually the issue has been before the Planning Commission for many months and concerns modications to the so-called McGlincey Neighborhood Plan which was divided into nine specific study areas.

The six-acre parcel owned by the theater was tabbed "Specific Area No. 2".

Eight of the "areas" presented no major problem. But "No. 2" has been a stickler–for months.

The Planning Commission recommendation that was originally forwarded to the City Council left the present zone (R-3-S) unchanged.

At the City Council level, the theater people reported that a traffic study had been made since the Planning Commission hearing. So the Council referred the matter back to the Commission to hear the new evidence.

And that was what took place Monday night.

The traffic study was made by Renato G. Martinez, a professional traffic engineer, and it featured entrance from McGlincey in addition to Westchester Drive. The theater owners are now in the process of acquiring the necessary easement from the county flood control district, for the new entrance.

The traffic study also indicated that in making the survey two left turns off Westchester had been used for a "simulated" situation. Commissioner Dale Scott questioned whether that was sound reasoning, inasmuch as Westchester was only a two-lane street.

As has been the case since the first discussion of zoning of the land-locked parcel next to the theater, a number of residents were present in the audience to voice their ob-

City and college

This newspaper is well aware that it has been criticized in some quarters for being too provincial in its attitude toward the future status of West Valley College relative to how this "status" will affect the City of Campbell.

We have maintained that unless some provision is made in future planning of the college for some type of permanent campus within the city limits to replace the so-called "temporary" campus that has been operating in town for the past five years, this newspaper cannot support any future junior college district bond issue.

Of course that is a provincial attitude.

We admit it.

But we sincerely believe we can justify such a stand by the developments that have taken place; or not taken place, as the case may be.

From the very inception of the West Valley Junior College District, (composed of three high school districts - Campbell, Los Gatos-Saratoga, Santa Clara), the City of Campbell officials have been cooperative in supporting the district in its efforts to provide adequate educational facilities for junior college students of the area.

And all will concede that the junior college administration has succeeded in achieving its educational objectives far beyond expectations and under rather trying circumstances with respect to housing of the students.

We are aware also that the failure of three bond issues in the past has created horrendous fiscal problems for the college administration in attempting to provide facilities for the constantly increasing enrollment.

But the administration should be commended for doing an excellent job under difficult circumstances.

We, therefore, can find no fault with the basic concept used in the operation and administration of the college.

Our criticism centers solely on the apparent lack of rapport between the college and the city on the issue of how Campbell is to fit into the future plans of the college, if at all.

Attempts by the city administration to gain an idea as to how long the temporary campus will remain (the old Campbell Grammar School and adjacent property), have proved unsuccessful.

The "temporary" campus has been used for the past five years and there is no indication as to when the cutoff date will be, if ever.

It is this "temporary" status that has no future that is so frustrating to the city administration, for the "temporary" campus occupies an area that is highly important in the future development of the city.

For example, a study of the area will soon be under way under the Neighborhood Development Program of the federal government.

A Redevelopment Agency has been formed. The study area extends from Winchester to the railroad tracks and between Latimer and Kennedy plus the Gilman-Dillon-Railway sector has been defined as approximately 120 acres.

Obviously the future status of the "temporary" campus of West Valley College is of vital importance in this study.

In all fairness to the West Valley College board of trustees, it must be noted that it would be almost impossible without available funds to pinpoint definitely what the future holds as to campus development in Campbell or other locations.

On the other hand, it should also be remembered that from the very start the City of Campbell has urged the college to locate here permanently and has offered all possible assistance.

We recall, for example, the City of Campbell officially invited the college to locate here at the time when a neighboring city was figuratively throwing up its hands in dismay over the possible location of the college in that community.

But a site in that neighboring city was chosen to be the first permanent campus and buildings have been and are being constructed on the location, on a piecemeal basis because of the failure of the three bond issues.

The Saratoga campus is now definite and is being used. That is that.

But even if that campus was completed to its ultimate, other facilities will be needed to accommodate the enrollment.

And that is what concerns the Campbell city administration.

If it is possible to specify (or even partially acquire) other campuses by board action, as has been the case, it seems to us that it could be just as logical to make some permanent commitment as to Campbell's future status.

We note that several board members have indicated that a future bond issue should specify some facilities for Campbell.

We submit, in all fairness to this community which has been the "temporary" home for the college for so long a time, that a definite "permanent" plan should be presented for some college educational facility in this city.

Otherwise we think the city administration would be right to offer its assistance in any way possible to get the "temporary" campus out of town as soon as possible.

That may be provincial thinking.

But we are provincial.

Neither were the by-laws that were adopted nor the ordinance that put the agency into effect. Nothing was specified on this name-calling business.

Dorothy ended up by using "Mister".

We suppose that it is logical to assume that, if members of a council are called councilmen and members of a commission are tabbed as commissioners, it would follow that officers of a redevelopment agency would be "agents".

Or "redevelopers"?

"Agent" Doetsch? "Redeveloper" Smeed?

But what they are called, somehow just doesn't seem to be a major problem.

-0-

EVENTUALLY IT IS conceivable that the Agency could be involved in the handling of millions of dollars.

But at the first meeting, the "agents" were a little concerned over where they would get the few bucks needed for ledgers and other incidentals.

Apparently the Agency will have to appear before the City Council to request the necessary monetary advances against the day that HUD comes through.

That ought to be an interesting budget item for the Councilmen to discuss with the "Agents".

Wonder if the Agency will get the dough?

IN LAST WEEK'S COLumn we cited the protest of a resident who in an unsigned note, complained about the noisy motorcyles that churned the open park day and night adjacent to the residential area.

We observed that we were sympathetic to the problem. But we would be more so if the writer had been more specific.

Or had signed the letter.

This week we received another note on the same subject. This one was signed. It also pinpointed the problem area.

We agree with the writer that those darn cycles are noise-makers, dust-raisers and nerve-shatterers.

We suppose there is not much to be done about it, if the riders are not inclined to be considerate.

But one can hope.

There certainly is a basis for a complaint. Here's the note:

-0-

"DEAR MR. VIERHUS,

"This is my first time to write an editor. I just finished your column and must agree with the unsigned writer who protested the noisy motorcycles, etc., on vacant lots.

"We live directly across the street from the vacant lot behind the new Plaza Theater No. 2. The lot runs between Nido and Winchester.

"Talk about a "captive audience", our only escape is to simply leave town. We have called the police who come out but when they leave, the noise (after a respectful silence) again resumes.

"Not only is the endless drone deafening, the cycles kick up dust and dirt which floats gently into one's home.

"So we've shut the windows, tried earplugs, left town, called the police–but it still goes on. In short, it will drive us to drink!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Janet Danahy.

PUBLIC RELATION PEOple spend countless thousands of dollars trying to get across the messages of their clients. Their approaches vary from the stereotyped single-spaced badly over-written, single-spaced drivel to humorous, well-written pieces with good pictures.

Some supplement their "news" with gimmicks that are worthy of note.

Such as the packet we received this week from the Maytag Company of Newton, Iowa, promoting "M-Day", an observance of the appliance dealers heralding Maytag's newest product, a built-in dishwasher.

The three news releases (green-white-pink) were enclosed in a folder that rested on a cardboard form. The cover of the folder explained that it was an "instant press conference" and included 10 directions of how to conduct our own press conference.

In addition to the folder, in a recessed space on the cardboard cover was a plastic cup with tiny packages of tea and coffee.

In addition a bent pin was fastened to it.

There was also a sign "Meeting in Progress" that could be flipped into position.

It was a clever approach. And it must have worked.

Look how much space we gave it.

jections.

Commissioners Jack Healey and Frank Klein briefly touched on the controversial background before the two-screen drive-in theater operation had been built. They both indicated that they felt that R-3-S zoning for the area to allow apartments would be better than a third screen.

Commissioner Norman Paul, co-owner of the two Plaza theaters in the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center, announced that he was abstaining from any discussion or voting on the issue.

Michael diLeonardo, attorney for the Syufy Enterprises, became slightly provoked at some of the charges made against the theater, pointing out that they had cooperated in every way possible but still they had been condemned for problems that they had nothing to do with.. such as noise made by cars on residential streets or the littering of the streets.

Present at the meeting to reiterate their objections made at previous meetings were Anthony Sota, 2222 Central Dr. and Bob Francis, 701 Parkdale, Dr. Both had spearheaded opposition to the theater from the beginning.

It has been reported last week in the newspaper that the theater was going to present its case.

Francis, however, claimed he had not been notified and had only learned about it from his neighbors.

Objecting to the litter tossed out of cars on Union Ave. and the noise the cars make leaving the theater was Ed Stojanovich, of 155 Union Ave., a former member of the Planning Commission.

Chairman Ed Pack in summing up the situation cautioned his fellow commissioners to take an unbiased view of the current problems rather than to review the issue of three years ago when the theatre was getting started and even before Attorney diLeonardo even got into the fray.

Pack also added that he didn't think a protest about noise made by a resident of the mobile home adjacent to the theater had much merit, inasmuch as the mobile home park was built after the theater was in existence and the tenants must have known there would be noise. (A petition had been presented protesting the noise).

The Commission in other actions during the evening gave speedy approval to the request for a zone change submitted by Feldheym, Wolff and DeGrange, for property in the San Tomas area near the San Tomas Village Shopping Center.

Len Feldheym, of the firm, explained that it is planned to construct housing on the five-acre parcel for low and moderate income families.

Approved also was the request of Albert E. Marchese, 271 E. Hacienda, for a zone change from CM:B-80 (square feet) to CM:B-20 (square feet). Marchese explained that there was only one parcel left of the original large acreage that had been CM:B-80. This lot was only 20,000 square feet he added.

Deferred for two weeks was action on the request for approval of the revised plot plan for a 164-unit apartment complex submitted by Pacific States Construction for a 7.3 acre parcel at 540 W. Latimer, just east of the expressway.

Because it was felt that the application was for more units than could be allowed under the R-2-S zoning, the Commission thought it should be deferred for two weeks to straighten out the mathematics.

The Commission also approved the request of Sunrise Investment Co. (Lowell Grattan) for a six-months extension in the development schedule for property on W. Hamilton at Llewellyn. The Commission in its recommendation to the Council specified that the property should be cleared and leveled before the extension was granted.

Pry burglar hits school, church and club

The pry burglar was back in Campbell again this week with a church, a school and a private club suffering losses.

The Free Will Baptist Church, 157 E. Rincon, lost a total of $479.91 Sunday when the church door was pried open and the small cabinet safe was similarily treated and the contents removed. Guy E. Newland, superintendent and treasurer discovered the loss when he went to pick up the money.

The Campbell High School, 1 Campbell Ave., was also entered and two hand microphones removed from the auditorium.

A liking for candy bars and cokes was evidenced by the burgular who pried open the Los Ranchitos Cabana Club store room, 112 Calado Ave. Fifteen to 20 candy bars and approximately five cokes were removed from the premises–although the litter left behind indicated that some of the stolen property was consumed on the spot.

Trouble is the "Ad Hoc" committee is having trouble finding some of their classmates who've moved from the area. So, if you know any of the following, please tell them to call Franklin and Dot (Kamus) Hale, 243-3024 or Vern and Jean (Jensen) LaMar, 356-4669.

Vacationing minister to fill pulpit

The Rev. Anthony Wayne Myers, minister of the Congregational Church of Campbell will be vacationing with his family at Silver City where he will preach two Sundays as part of the California Park Ministry.

During his absence from Campbell, guest ministers will be Dr. Corwin H. Olds, minister emeritus of the Campbell church who preached Aug. 3 and the Rev. Leeds Gulick, retired missionary and member of the Congregational Church on Aug. 10.

President sends greetings on 95th birthday

President and Mrs. Richard Nixon were among the many well-wishers extending Happy Birthday Greetings to Mrs. Gertrude Stanford on the occasion of her reaching the age of 95.

Mrs. Stanford was also honored by the city of Campbell in the form of a resolution establishing Friday, August 1 as Gertrude Stanford Day. The Resolution was presented to Mrs. Stanford signed by city dignataries and personnel wishing her many happy returns of the day.

Other recognition of the occasion was sent by Congressman Charles Gubser. Gubser's gift was in the form of a desk clock in the shape of a book with places for pictures of Mrs. Stanford's two sons.

Climaxing the celebration for the birthday honoree was a family party held at the Stockton home of a great neice, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Gray, where a chololate birthday cake was cut and a money tree presented to Mrs. Stanford, who declared "I wouldn't have missed it for the world–everyone should live to the age of 95 to enjoy such a delightful birthday".

Mrs. Stanford has resided in Campbell since 1912 when she and her sister, Miss Sadie Maxon operated the old Campbell Hotel, which is now known as the Campbell Apts. Her husband, Walter, was a hydralic engineer associated with the Oakland Water Works, Mrs. Stanford makes her home at 39 N. Central Ave., which is in the only remaining residence on that side of the street.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

It has long been known that one breed of politician votes for every appropriation bill and against every tax. And judging from two votes in the House of Representatives on July 30, there are about 77 ultraliberals in the House who follow the practice.

On page H 6522 of the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD for July 30, 77 of the more liberal Members of the House of Representatives are recorded as voting against a bill which would allow the Internal Revenue Service to continue collection of the controversial surcharge tax until after the Senate considered the House-passed extension. This vote taken by itself would not be especially significant since a number of arch conservatives voted just as the liberals did.

But a few hours later the 77 marched down the aisle in an unrecorded "teller" vote to add almost a full $1 billion to the President's budget for various educational programs. In this case, like the earlier surcharge vote, members of every political hue supported more money for education but most of the moderates and conservatives who wanted more money for schools had voted a few hours earlier for the tax to raise the money. The 77 ultraliberals displayed no such consistency.

When these two votes are linked with each other which was taken a few weeks ago, the inconsistency becomes even more striking. When the House was considering a supplemental appropriation bill, Democrats urged a spending limitation on the Nixon Administration now in power. Republicans went along so the House adopted a provision which would limit spending for the fiscal year to $191.5 billion. Because this issue was never isolated and voted on by itself, it is not possible to say that all 77 of the House liberals mentioned above supported this spending limitation, but it is well known that most of them fattened their economy voting records by supporting the spending ceiling. So, these proponents of the "spend and spend" theory who had urged a limitation on spending a few weeks ago voted on July 20 to exceed their own decree by almost a billion dollars. On the same day they also voted against the tax which would pay the bill!

Through the liberals' philosophy may have been inconsistent, one must admit that their tactics were clearly more effective than that of the Republican leadership defending the Nixon budget. More than 1000 educators from all over the country buttonholed Congressmen and walked the halls of the House Office Buildings for two days in advance of the vote. They determined that they would offer a "package deal" and lump less popular programs with full funding for impacted school districts, a program which has 385 supporters out of 435 in the House.

Republican leadership made its usual mistake of placing all bets on an unrealistically low figure instead of compromising upward for a popular program which is in the national interest. As a result they lost everything and the $1 billion package prevailed.

I support adequate funds for education purposes and believe that both liberals and conservatives have a common stake in it. I only wish the conservatives would accept the fact that good education requires money–and–taxes–and the liberals would do likewise.

Gubser wants to up chances for academy entry

Congressman Charles S. Gubser (R-Gilroy) has introduced legislation for himself and his California colleagues Congressmen Harold "Bizz" Johnson (D-Roseville) and Robert L. Leggett (D-Vallejo) which could improve chances for qualified young men to secure appointments to the United States service academies.

Should a Senator or Representative not have a vacancy occurring for a new class commencing at any one of the military academies, he would be privileged under the terms of the new bill to nominate nine individuals who could be considered for selection by the Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force. These young men would be competing for entrance into the academies as qualified alternates.

In introducing the bill, Gubser said, "As a member of the Military Academy Subcommittee of the Armed Services Committee, I have found that the academies frequently exhaust all nominations made by Members of Congress without filling their full complement of cadets and midshipmen. If we are to maintain these expensive institutions to educate future military officers, they should be operated at their fullest and most efficient capacity. Our bill will expand the source for potential eligibles and increase chances for qualified young men to pursue a military career by attending one of the academies".

The three Californians were joined in introducing the bill by Congressman Alexander Pirnie (R-New York), a member of the House Armed Services Subcommittee on Military Academies. Leggett also is a member of the Armed Services Committee.

Campbell resident enjoys touring northern redwood woodlands

CALIFORNIA BEAUTY
By George Haviland

Standing in a narrow strip 35 miles wide and 500 miles long, the coastal redwoods form dense forests on the west slope of the Pacific Ocean.

The Big Trees, contained in nine counties, extend from Josephine County in the southernmost tip of Oregon to San Francisco County in California.

This vast region known as the Redwood Empire is a spectacular all-year vacationland of winding rivers, pleasant wooded campsites and virgin timber growths.

We drove to San Francisco recently for the beginning of a delightful tour of this land of scenic charm, with Eureka, 275 miles north of the Bay City, our destination.

The multi-million dollar system of highways interlacing the redwood wonderland has been extended and improved in recent years, making it more accessible to sightseers.

U. S. 101, the system's main all-weather artery, is lined with giant redwoods for 145 miles in Humboldt County.

From the moment we crossed the incredible Golden Gate bridge and headed north on U. S. 101, our redwood adventure began to unfold in all its splendor. It was early morning, and the sun cast magnificent colors across the Pacific.

Within minutes we were in Marin County marveling at the beauty of the Muir Woods National Monument, a stand of the world's oldest and tallest living redwoods.

Cutting off at the Shoreline highway junction for a brief side trip to Mt. Tamalpais, we enjoyed a panoramic view of the entire Bay Area from this vantage point.

Back on U. S. 101 we proceeded north at a leisurely pace through the quiet communities of Petaluma and Santa Rosa in Sonoma County, and Hopland and Ukiah in Mendocino County.

At nightfall we reached Cummings in the heart of the redwood country, and in a motel surrounded by towering giants, we cooked a sumptuous dinner of steaks and potatoes over a wood stove before retiring.

Next morning we drove up into Humboldt County and were treated to new and wondrous vistas of rolling hills and green pastures. Weekend fishermen were out in force along the Eel river and reported excellent catches.

The Avenue of Giants, which begins 43 miles south of Eureka, is a sight we'll long remember for its awe-inspiring beauty. At Scotia, a quaint mill town on the banks of the Eel, we spent an hour or so going through the world's largest redwood mill.

The tallest known tree, 365 feet high and holding 125,000 board feet of lumber, stands just off the highway near Dyerville. The Shrine tree, a few miles from here, is another big one. An archway carved in its center allows you to drive your car through it.

The Elk Preserve, five miles from Orick, is the refuge of the last remaining band of Wapiti Elk in California. We saw the animals freely roaming both sides of the road.

A highlight of our trip was the drive through the numerous stands of stately redwoods which have been set aside as living memorials to noted Americans. Among these are the Earl Warren, James Rolph Jr., Culbert Olson and Charles Fleishmann groves, to name only a few.

At Eureka we saw the "most photographed house in America". Erected in 1884 mostly of redwood, it is of Victorian architecture, with all filigree hand carved. Another local curiosity is the Stump House, built of the stump of a giant redwood.

Visiting the Trees of Mystery park north of Eureka was the enthralling climax of our tour. A languid Indian resting on a horse, both carved from a single redwood tree, marks the entrance to this unique attraction.

The park features the world's largest family tree–12 living trees on one trunk–and the elephant tree, having the form of an elephant's trunk and ears.

The world's largest octopus trees are another eerie spectacle here. Grafted together by nature, they have grown over the fallen giant, a redwood estimated to be 5000 years old.

Adding to the magic enchantment of the forest, a musical rendition of Joyce Kilmer's poem "Trees" is broadcast softly at intervals from speakers erected at various points in the park.

Far from the tumult of the city, we thrilled to the mystery of these mighty cathedrals whose history began centuries before the Christian era. Much too soon the time came to return home, and we left the Redwood Empire regretfully–but totally captivated by its enduring charm.

(b) The acquisition of all lands and easements and the performing of all work auxiliary to any of the above and necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the City Council of said City and on file for public inspection in the office of the City Clerk.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

It is intended by the City Council to enter into an agreement with the Campbell Water Company, which agreement will provide for the ownership by said Company of domestic and fire protections water facilities in said City to be installed by said Company, and for the providing of service to the properties in said area by said Company in accordance with its rates, rules and regulations, and that said agreement shall become effective after proceedings have been taken for the levy of assessments and sale of bonds and funds are available to carry out its terms.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Council, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the City Clerk, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. Said map indicates by a boundry line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district.

The estimated cost of the project is $152,-664.89, of which the City of Campbell will contribute the estimated amount of $110,579.24, leaving an estimated balance of $42,085.65 to be assessed.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed seven percent (7%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 (Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code), the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention, are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description therof. The plans and profiles of the work and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the City Clerk.

Notice is further given that the Director of Public Works pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 28th day of July, 1969, file with the City Clerk of said City his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Council did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVE that Thursday, the 28th day of August, 1969, at the hour of 8 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Council, Council Chambers, City Hall, Campbell, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Council when and where it will consider and finally determine whether the public interest, convenience and necessity require said acquisitions and improvements, and when it will consider and determine whether the owners of a majority of the area of the property in the proposed assessment district have protested against said acquisitions and improvements or any portion thereof, and when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions and that any person interested may file a written protest with the City Clerk at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention, and said report, including plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs, diagram and assessments, and maps, descriptions, for a more particular description of said acquisitions and improvements to be had and done, and for further particulars, all on file in the office of the City Clerk.

BLUE ANGELS STAR--The Blue Angels will perfrom at the free air show hosted by the Naval Air Station Moffett Field this Saturday and Sunday, August 9 and 10. The famed Navy flight demonstration team will highlight the area's biggest air show. The public is invited, parking is free, cameras are welcome. Gates open at 10 a.m.

TO BE ON DISPLAY--This antique airplane, a Waco U1C, 1933 vintage, will be one of the many on display at the Moffett Field 25th anniversary show on Aug. 9 and 10. The Waco is used by the Civil Air Patrol John J. Montgomery Sq. 36 which meets in Campbell. According to Mrs. Charles Fleming the antique bi-plane is especially helpful in searching for downed planes in the mountains because the second wing gives it added lift. Other Campbell residents who will have old airplanes on display at the Moffett show include a Taylor Craft, 41 model, owned by Hal Beard.

Exchange Civil Air Patrol Cadettes visit in Campbell

An insight into California living and history was given last month to a group of young Civil Air Patrol cadets and officers from New Zealand and the Philippines.

The group of 14 young men, representing the top cadets of the two countries, spent three weeks in the Campbell area where they were hosted by various families who participated in the California Civil Air Patrol.

During their visit here the exchange cadettes enjoyed a flight to Columbia, California where they were treated to a stagecoach ride from the Columbia airport to Columbia and were guests of William Clever, proprietor of the Columbia House restaurant In the afternoon they enjoyed a "real live horseback trail ride" which throughly indoctrined them in California living. Climaxing their stay was a trip to the zoo and a patio and swim party at the home of the Don Matthewsons', commanding officer for the local group.

A group of 28 exchange cadets is expected shortly from Jamica and Canada. They will also be staying in area homes for the three weeks of their tour.

Co-ordinating activities for the Cadettes stay were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fleming, captain and warrent office of the local group. Hosting the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Russel Benzler, John Peterson, Donald Rust, Francis Underwood, Sam West, Sr., John Hudson, Tyrone St. Louis and the Charles Flemings. The young men are between the ages of 17 and 20 years old.

VISITORS FROM AFAR--Mrs. Charles Fleming, center. Sq. 36, Civil Air Patrol Warrent Officer poses with Cadette visitors from New Zealand and the Philappines. With Mrs. Fleming are top row, l. to r. R. J. Latham, M. V. Plicher, S. M. Smith, M. T. Beale, C. M. Stone and J. Coubrough, all under officers. Seated are D. H. Royal, flag officer from New Zealand, R. A. Oddy and K. M. Smith, under officers and N. H. Scott, Sqn. Leader from New Zealand who acted as chaperons with Royal. The visitors were part of the 14 man Civil Air Patrol exchange program visiting in Campbell recently.

Healy with the sets designed by Christy Hauber, 13, and costumes by Karyn Peterman, 15.

The workshop will also perform at the Fiesta deArtes in Old Town. "Don Quixote" will play at the pavilion Friday Aug. 15 at 7:30 and Hansel and Gretel will be seen Sunday, Aug. 17 in the pavilion at 2 p.m. A third group from the workshop, the "Entr 'Actes", featuring the finest from several musical comedys, will perform at the Pavilion Thursday, Aug. 14 at 7:30, and again Saturday, Aug. 16 in the Ampitheater at 2 p.m.

New Boy Scout Troop 317 forms at Coventry

A new scout troop, Troop 317, sponsored by the Coventry Home and School Club, has been organized in Campbell.

The need for a new troop became apparent when boys graduating from Cubbing in Cub Pack 317, found that the existing scout troops had no place for them.

Serving as scoutmaster is Charles (Chuck) Barrett with Arthur Ring as his assistant. Three patrols have been organized with Vic Barrett, Steve Onishi and Eddie Ring as patrol leaders. Ray Barrett has been appointed Senior Patrol leader.

A group of parents have organized a scout committee with Russell Towne as committee chairman.

Although the troop is new it has been very active and many outdoor activities have been enjoyed, encluding a recent week at Camp High Sierra where the boys worked on their advancements.

Troop 317 meets every Monday at 7 p.m. and members of the committee convene once a month at Coventry School.

BOARD MEETING

Board members of the Campbell Artists Guild will hold their regular monthly meeting on Aug. 13 at the home of Mrs. Ken Meinecke, 1907 Margot Place. At that time the board will discuss plans for the Aug. 14, 15, 16 and 17 show to be held at Kirkwood Plaza. The public is invited to attend the show which will feature art in action and prizes. Following the board meeting the members will enjoy lunch and swimming.

Doggin it

By Sally Howe

One of the biggest sufferors of summer malady is the family dog.

Because many public parks don't allow Fido, or because the vacation planned is with relatives, or at a resort, there is no place in the plans for a canine.

So what happens?

One of several things. If the family is kind, considerate and thoughtful, they'll provide care for Fido, by boarding him in a kennel, leaving him with relatives or, in extreme circumstances, arranging for a neighbor to care for him in his own yard.

It's the latter that's chancey. How many of the dogs who are running the streets AREN'T being properly cared for and have joined the "garbage can" foraging squad?

How many children who come home crying that "that doggy bit me" are the victims of someone's thoughtlessness?

What's the solution?

If an owner cannot be absolutely sure that the person assigned to keep their pet is completely reliable and in addition to feeding him and shutting him up at night, will do also janitor duty and make sure that plenty of fresh water is available and that no continual barking is going to disturb neighbors – then he should not leave home.

Instead he should investigate legitimate referenced boarding kennels (not veterinary hospitals) and find out what kind of facilities they'll have for a pet.

Or talk to Grandma. Maybe she'd like company for a week or so.

But don't inflict your thoughtlessness on the whole community.

BABY SON

Added to the Cradle Roll in March was Dennis Patrick Tripoli who arrived March 20 at the Good Samaritan Hospital. The third son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Tripoli, 415 N. Sunberry weighed in at 8 lbs. 7 ounces. He joined his brothers and two sisters at home.

Students must file by Aug. 11

Those day students wishing to attend West Valley College in the fall must file an application with the college by Aug. 11, according to Jerry H. Girdner, dean of student personnel services.

Students must file the application (which must include an identification photo) and an official transcript from high schools and colleges attended with the Admissions and Records office. A.C.T. S.A.T. or West Valley College placement test scores must also be on file with the dean of counseling and guidance.

Upon completion of these steps, the student will receive notice indicating the time and date for his pre-registration orientation and counseling appointment.

Registration for the fall semester will be by scheduled appointment from Sept. 2 - 4 with classes commencing Sept. 10.

Adults planning to register in the Extended Day program must obtain a permit to register Sept. 2 - 4.

CLASS REUNION

Campbell High School graduates of the class of 1964 are planning their first five-year class reunion. Scheduled for Sept. 5 at Lou's Village, the cocktail hour will start at 7:30 p.m. with dinner and dancing until 1 a.m.

Reservations may be had by calling Charles Cordova, class president at 294-8890 or Duane Mayfield, student body secretary at 378-6824. August 21 has been set as the reservation deadline.

More Helpful Hints From PG&E:
Five handy tips on household safety.

A Little Dirt or Lint can cause trouble. So make sure that burners and controls on your gas furnace, wall or floor heater are clean at all times. And clean or replace dirty furnace filters periodically.

Remember to replace broken or frayed electric cords. Make sure all electric tools are properly grounded. Never put too many appliances on one outlet. Disconnect small appliance cords by pulling plug first from outlet and always discourage youngsters from tampering with cords or outlets.

Get Rid Of rusted or loose fitting vent and flue pipes. Have them checked annually. And if you suspect a gas leak, CALL PG&E IMMEDIATELY.

It's Up To You to practice good home safety habits. Don't place furniture or draperies over floor furnaces. Don't let gas accumulate before lighting a burner manually. And always make sure the burners on your range are off completely when not in use.

Once A Year have your gas appliances thoroughly checked by your furnace man or plumber. While he's there he should make sure safety pilots are operating properly, air openings on burners are clean and burners set for a blue flame.

PG&E Is Ready To Help
If you call for a PG&E service man to check out any gas leak or inoperative gas appliance, ask him to show you where your gas pilots are located and how to go about relighting them. If repairs or parts are ever required for an appliance, call an appliance or furnace service man or your plumber.

The team bowled over Sunnyvale Pioneer 12-0 in the first game behind the no-hit pitching of Steve McGrody plus homeruns by John McMongial and Doug Aubineau

Santa Clara Briarwood, which subsequently won the district title, beat the locals 3-0 in the second game.

FUTURE SWIM POOL--Swim Coach Chuck Thompson drives a corner stake for what may be a future swimming pool for the County's Boys Ranches. The stakeholder is Chief Probation Officer Robert Nino, while Mrs. John Moore, of the Juvenile Center Auxiliary and Youth Guidance Volunteers, smiles encouragement.

Group seeks aid to build pool at James Ranch

Anyone interested in helping finance or build a swimming pool for 210 delinquent youngsters would be welcome at the offices of the Juvenile Center Auxiliary and Youth Guidance Volunteers.

The group is trying to raise money to build a swimming pool at the William F. James Boys Ranch at Morgan Hill.

The pool would be used by the boys who are housed at both the James Ranch, for older boys, the adjoining Ranch No. Two, for boys in their early teens, and the Muriel Wright Girls Ranch.

The auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Richard McGowen, of Los Altos, has started a drive for donations of cash, supplies or services to build the pool. Already $1,000 has been raised.

A committee headed by Chuck Thompson, head of a chain of swimming schools, will canvass individuals and businesses throughout the County for donations. All contributions are tax deductible.

Mrs. John Bishop, of San Jose, is chairman of the ways and means committee, for the drive.

Mrs. McGowen explained that the auxiliary is involved in projects to help any child in custody of the County Juvenile Probation Department.

The group works at the Juvenile Hall, in the Civic Center, the Children's Shelter, where dependent and neglected children are housed, and at the three ranches.

Teenage boys and girls who are in need or rehabilitation and 24 hour supervision are usually placed at one of the ranches.

Mrs. McGowen said auxiliary members feel building a pool for the ranches would make it possible to add another constructive activity for the teenagers in custody. She added that juvenile counsellors report that many of them have not been taught to swim. Experts agree that swimming can be a very therapeutic activity.

SWEET SIXTEEN (?)

Lady Godiva hair-dos of today had their counter part in Veronica Lake hair-dos of yesterday.

What used to be "hep" is now "tough"; "jerk" is now a dance instead of a member of an out-group; jitterbug contests have been replaced by swims and the ole Sloppy Joe and jeans have given way to voluminous work shirts and bell bottoms. Remember those dirty saddle shoes our folks found so offensive?

The new editions prefer bare feet, far more potent in their effect upon the fastidious cranks (us) of today.

And choosing just the right personality for a rather disappointing face still burns up many an idle afternoon.

So what makes that gangling group of kids we cringe at the sight of think we're so different?

Come to think of it – what makes us think they're so different?

These wonderful rebels are devout conformists to their rules.

It was ever thus.

* * * *

Exposure to a fledgling citizen open up the door to many a muted memory.

Well – maybe there have been a few changes.

Today, going steady is the only way to go.

We traveled in a gang of SWELL gals, possibly because we weren't asked to go steady (or anywhere else for that matter).

The rumor was kept alive by our constant affirmation that you could have more fun with a bunch of girls than you could with some pimply boy.

* * * *

Dances were a real drag.

Since boys played football they didn't dance. Why? This was their secret.

Gals danced with girls with a few exceptions.

When a secret crush once asked yours truly to Big Apple, I went into catatonic shock.

After a horrible interval, during which the U. S. Army established its beach head in Sicily, he shrugged his blue serged shoulders and stalked off – taking my dreams of our future together with him.

I shall always cherish the memory of him standing before me, his pink neck fighting his collar, while I did my imitation of a silent movie during a broken reel.

* * * *

Today – everybody dances (?) or whatever; they're all out there doing their "thing" anyway.

* * * *

Our senior year was a stand-out for its malelessness. The boys had signed up to do their bit for Old Glory.

We did make "contact" with the opposite sex through correspondence. Eager to do my part for morale (mine), I can't say the same for the object of my missives.

Richard, Seaman third class, sent a letter which began "Dear Irene". The salve for this blow was the obvious – "Dear Irene" must have received a "Dear Betty" letter.

Eons of mail later Richard came home on leave and I saw him – with "Dear Irene". The gang assured me I had it all over her like a barrel but somehow -- she had Richard.

I had my own sweet revenge when, unknown to R., I saw him two years later.

He was balding while I was dating the forerunner to Dr. Zorba.

* * * *

Remember that little girl all the boys found so cute and desirable?

She was as witty as a Basset hound, had the mentality of an earthworm and wore a different outfit every day?

Well, my daughters tell me she's still around. I'm sure the need to feel superior to the female must have something to do with the choices man make at times, or so I told my brothers.

* * * *

The way I see it, the teens are the years we spent bending our psyches all out of shape so we can spend the rest of our days trying to straighten them out.

Well – see ya' down at the couch.

School district opens new child care center

A Children's Center designed to aid working parents in caring for their children, will be in operation on Sept. 10, it was announced this week by the Campbell Union (elementary) School District.

The Children's Center will be located at Moorpark School and will serve preschool and school age children from the entire school district between the ages of 3 and 16.

Children's Centers are operated jointly by the State Department of Education and the local school district to provide supervision and instruction throughout the year for children of working parents, when they are unable to care for themselves.

Fees, based upon family income, are set by the State Department of Education with the parents paying approximately one-third and the rest by the state. Children are eligible to attend if one parent is working and the other attending school, or if the income is below a certain level. One parent families are also eligible.

Children living out of the school district will be admitted if space exists after admitting children living within the district. Application should be made at the Campbell Union School District Administration office, 155 N. Third St. Campbell or by phoning 378-3405.

go to bid for the civic center by next February. He said that it was hoped that the library plans would be complete by that time also so that construction on the entire project would get under way at the same time.

The 1967 bond issue provided $540,000 for the construction of the city hall with $91,000 for furnishings, $54,000 for fees and $50,000 for landscaping for a total of $735,000.

The present estimate calls for $837,000.

The estimated land acquisition cost in 1967 was $180,000. This estimate has now soared to $378,345. mainly because of the additional acreage that the expanded library needs.

The city, however, will be able to offset some of this land cost, City Manager Stephens pointed out, through the sale of city-owned land surplus for civic center purposes which includes the present fire station and city-owned land that will be south of the loop street.

Some other revenue will be derived from the interest that the city gets from city bonds that are on deposit, It is estimated that the interest on the unexpended bond issue will total approximately $130,000 by June 30, 1970.

But Stephens also warned that all these factors have been taken into consideration in computing the $150,000 deficit.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

DISABILITY BENEFITS

Social security means more than just retirement payments. It also means survivor payments and to many people, disability payments. Social security disability payments can help a family if the worker becomes so disabled that he cannot work.

There are some requirements that must be met before a person can get disability benefits. First, he must be so disabled that he cannot be expected to engage in any substantial work for at least 12 months. Second, he must have worked in employment covered by social security for five years out of the ten years ending at the time he became disabled.

For a worker who became disabled before he was age 31, he must have worked half the time between age 21 and age 31, with a minimum of one and one-half years' work.

If the worker became disabled before age 24, he would need to have worked one and one-half years out of the three-year period ending with the date he became disabled. This requirement for young disabled workers became effective in February 1968.

Before that time all workers, regardless of age, had to meet the same work requirement (that is, have worked for five years out of the ten-year period ending with the date he became disabled). This change has made disability protection available to many young workers who were previously excluded because of lack of sufficient work.

When a worker receives social security payments, some of his dependents may also be entitled to benefits. Dependent's benefits are payable to children under age 18, wives under age 62 with children in their care, wives age 62 or older, and children age 18 to 22 if the children are single and full-time students.

The local social security office can give information and assistance in filing any claim for social security payments.

ASSESSMENTS

The average property assessment level in Santa Clara County is 23.6% of market value compared to the statewide average of 23.1%, according to preliminary figures issued by the State Board of Equalization.

50,000 FILE

More than 50,000 California residents over 65 years of age have already filed 1969 claims for a reimbursement of their 1968-69 property taxes under California's Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Law, according to Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

Huff said the claims must be filed before Oct. 15, 1969, to be valid. Under the Senior Citizens Law, up to 95% of the property taxes can be reimbursed, depending upon the individual's income.
